

JEFF AUG / MURAT PARLAK QUINTET

FOR THE LOVE OF NINE

Five musicians from the Anne Clark Band bring fingerstyle guitar, piano, violin, cello, drums and percussion together in a distinctive acoustic quintet. Their debut album, For the Love of Nine, arrives on 5 February 2027 through Stockfisch Records.

Drawing on the instrumental recordings of Windham Hill and the rock fusion of the 1970s and 1980s, the group combines acoustic instrumental music with the energy of rock and influences from world music.

Recorded at Stockfisch Studio in Northeim, the album grew from an idea shared by Jeff Aug and Murat Parlak in May 2012. Aug had returned from touring with Allan Holdsworth when material intended for his eighth acoustic instrumental album suggested a larger ensemble.

Aug, Parlak and cellist Jann Michael Engel have been at the heart of the Anne Clark Band since 2002; violinist Justin Ciuche and drummer Sven von Samson joined in 2021.

A Guinness World Record holder, Aug has opened European tours for Scott Henderson, Allan Holdsworth and Greg Howe. Parlak's concert, theatre and studio work includes Harald Schmidt, Vinnie Colaiuta and compositions for radio.

Engel also tours with Mila Mar. Ciuche is a Stockfisch session musician, performs with In Extremo and produces music for film and television. Von Samson is a regular musician at the Deutsches Theater in Göttingen.
